

Amanda Brezell, MS, Policy and Engagement Specialist at Groundwork Center for Resilient Communities. Amanda Brezell is an urban farmer, policy specialist, and designer based in Detroit. Combining their background in sustainable agriculture with their education and experience in community activism, rebuilding, and food systems, they started their own farm to build community resilience. Amanda has continued their work in policy surrounding local food as the Policy and Engagement Specialist for the 10 Cents a Meal Program at Groundwork.